TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

Younity.in is a platform for ever-growing learners. It is a community where students come together and shape themselves for a better future. Younity.in guides the students at every walk of life, right from building the right skills to choosing opportunities after college.

I write this letter of recommendation for Harsh Makhija, who has been a diligent and sincere part of Younity.in. He has been a self-starter and productive contributor to team efforts. In addition to having a high degree of integrity and a cheerful personality, he is one of those individuals who can both follow instructions and take initiatives. He has demonstrated the ability to work under pressure and to plan and organize successfully to meet time deadlines. He is strong in time management and his competence extends beyond the skills for which he was originally hired. He worked here with utmost dedication and performed very well as Brand Associate at Younity.in for the period of one week.

Harsh has been very hard working towards all the tasks assigned to him. During his tenure at Younity.in, he has added a lot of value in himself and to the company. I, therefore, recommend Mr Harsh without reservation, and I know he will be of great value to your organization.
